

LOS ANGELES, DID YOU HEAR?

Dims. Opens Pop-Up, Garde Moves to New Location, and More News This Week

Here's what you need to know

By Jessica Ritz | March 12, 2019

Los Angeles is brimming with design delights and happenings. For all the goings-on around town and news you need to know, AD PRO's weekly news roundup is here to keep you filled in.

Architecture for Education Appoints Two New Leaders

Known for its work designing schools and educational centers on the West Coast, Architecture for Education has named designers Olivia Graf Doyle and Rachel Adams as the firm's new leaders. The news comes after the announcement that founder Gaylaird Christopher shifted his role as president to founding principal.